Media and Journalism Internship

16 Week Fall Internship
Start Date | Monday, Aug. 13
End Date | Friday, Nov. 30

Hyperspace Ventures is seeking the services of an extremely passionate, driven, and hardworking candidate to serve as a writer and digital media producer covering the stories of successful entrepreneurs and innovators. Beyond telling these incredible stories, interns will be creating engaging and educational content for other entrepreneurs to help them succeed.

The Internship Program is ideal for individuals who want to learn about digital PR and content marketing in a startup environment while taking a leading role on a handful of media and content projects for the company and its clients. Interns will gather valuable experience in all facets of the PR & digital marketing craft, from inbound marketing strategies to branding to growth hacking strategies.

Candidates must have an undeniable passion for media, journalism, marketing and entrepreneurship. This position requires candidates to work together with a team of like-minded students. The team will work very closely together and with supervisors to constantly produce content for Hyperspace Ventures' website, blog, newsletter and social media channels. The content will be designed to engage and educate entrepreneurs on how to build a successful business with a focus on technology.

This position may possibly lead to a full-time paid position and will help the interns gain valuable experience in the industry. While creating a robust portfolio, the interns will also make valuable connections and develop both personally and professionally.

Company Overview
Hyperspace Ventures helps entrepreneurs change the world. We design, build, and invest in powerful digital products for startups and leading brands.
https://www.hyperspaceventures.com/

Internship Requirements
● Availability and commitment to work a minimum of 12 hours/week
● Organized, responsible, self-driven and display ability to multitask and meet deadlines
● Creative, quick thinker and eager to learn
● Excellent written and verbal communication skills with a journalistic sensibility and understanding
● Identifies, develops and writes stories with a compelling voice.

The Ideal Candidate
● Student interested in public relations, marketing communications, media and/or journalism and eligible to receive course credit for working at Hyperspace Ventures
● Proven interest in business, innovation and entrepreneurship
● Interested in pursuing a career in business journalism, marketing, public relations and/or entrepreneurship.
● Communicates and connects well with people, who can provide insights and perspectives on stories.